Coteaux Champenois

The still wines of Champagne were once referred to as Vin Nature de la Champagne.

These are very rare offerings of light and delicate Pinot Noir.

Alsace Blanc

These wines offer some of the best values of white wine in the world. From this land with a history of turmoil spring forth wines with unique cultural heritage. In Alsace, there is a movement toward recognizing Grand Cru vineyard sites and bottling wines from specific soil types.

Burgundy Blanc

Chardonnay at its finest. “Plant your vines where the snow melts first” has long been a saying that points vigneron to plots with the most sunlight. When chardonnay is planted in sunlight on this kind of unique limestone, a lustrous terroir manifests in the glass.

Bordeaux Rouge

Bordeaux reds exude power & elegance. At times they may seem hedonistic, at other times they connect with cuisine in the most mysterious ways...

Provence, Languedoc-Roussillon, Southwest Rouge

It's hot and dry in the lands that border the north Mediterranean coast. The wines from this area are often dense and rich, Taut, and at times sinewy. They are relentlessly raw and straightforward, and always perfect with grass-fed steak...

Rhône Valley Rouge

The Rhône River winds through the inhospitable rocky hills in the north to the gallet-studded plains in the south. The gobelet-trained vines look like small shrubs. The fruit they produce is taut and flavorful. The biodiversity and variation in the soil translates to a wide spectrum of flavors and styles.

American Red

We have come so far since the days of Prohibition. Just a century ago we were preparing to shut down American wineries left and right. Generations later, the wine industry in the US has bounced back with incredible force. The benchmark wineries below have come a long way in exploring and pushing the envelope of what American terroir can express. The next generation of US wine will build upon their work.
